

PIXELMUNCH

Pixelmunch is a new common sense that would exist in the future of a post work society, it's a base where anyone can visit to socialise over a meal at any time of the day or night.

Pixelmunch is the food hall of the future in a post work society. This food hall comes as part of your universal basic service, therefore no cash is exchanged in the building and all meals and drinks are paid for using our new currency of pixels. These pixel tokens will be delivered to you weekly as part of a package via the post, this package will include your pixels, promotional material and a menu of the food on offer.

The Pixelmunch food hall is deigned to encourage people to come together over a good meal, quick coffee or evening drink. We have designed the floor plan of the building to be inclusive, with long benches and communal seating areas, that encourage strangers to eat together and interact with each other, this element of the Pixelmunch food hall is vital in a post work society where it will be harder to meet new people and spark new friendships.

Our Pixelmunch food hall will be opening in villages, towns and cities across the UK. So why not pop in, meet new people, make new friends and enjoy your favourite meal, without parting with your cash !
